I can not believe Microsoft is getting away with this settlement!

In my eyes the "settlement" amounts to letting MS off with a warning, after being found guilty. An encouragement to continue unlawful and unhealthy practices, at a cost to both American and international society.

At least here in Europe, the American legal system has been the enjoying ever decreasing respect, with lawyers involved in anything, and courts awarding outrageous compensations... We used to joke that Americans get the best justice money can buy. Don't let MS prove that joke right!

Yours sincerely
